MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION.

Dated Allahabad, 9th June, 1930.

READ—

Divisional reviews on the working of municipal boards for the years 1926-27, 1927-28 and 1928-29.

The Annual Report of the Director of Public Health for the calendar years 1926, 1927 and 1928 and the Annual Report of the Superintending Engineer, Public Health department, for the years 1926-27, 1927-28 and 1928-29.

The Annual Report on the working of the Local Audit department for the years 1926-27, 1927-28 and 1928-29.

OBSERVATIONS—

Constitution.—The number of municipalities remained the same. There were few changes worthy of comment in their constitution except in the numbers of official and nominated members. In 1925-26 there were 41 official members in 28 out of the 85 boards. The following year the official element was removed altogether from 9 of these boards and in the remaining 19 numbered only 26 members. A further reduction was made in the next year, officials being removed from three more boards. In 1928-29 only 13 boards were left with any official element, the total number of such members being 19. In the year 1926-27 the number of nominated members was increased from 137 in 64 boards to 180 in 84, Bulandshahr being the only board without any such members. The increase was mainly due to the representation of the depressed classes, particularly in the smaller boards where hitherto they had been unrepresented. In 1928-29 nominated members numbered 182.

Except in some of the hill stations the triennial elections took place in December, 1928, and on the whole were keenly contested. Numerous election petitions were filed, but remarkably few were successful. There are good grounds for the comment of one Commissioner that the great majority of these petitions are filed out of rancour and disappointment rather than for any genuine reason.

2. Annual reports.—Every year during the period under review there have been justifiable complaints of the delay in the submiss of their reports by many of the boards and of their inaccuracy wl received. Of the 16 municipalities in the Rohilkhand division but three of which are small, more than half are consistently late presenting their reports. Among the larger municipalities the board of Meerut and Benares; while among the smaller those of Mussoorie, Lalitpur, Mau, Naini Tal and Azamgarh appear to be habitual offenders in this respect. Delay and inaccuracy in the submission of these reports must inevitably detract largely from their value and reflect adversely upon the efficiency of the boards at fault.

3. Meetings.—The total number of meetings fell by more than 100 in 1926-27 to 1,929, but it rose steadily again in the next two years to 1,973. The number of meetings adjourned, after a sharp rise to 297 in 1927-28, fell again to the same figure as in 1925-26, namely, 239. Meetings adjourned for want of a quorum have decreased in the same period from 160 to 149. The percentages of adjourned meetings and of meetings which proved abortive for want of a quorum are much too high, being over 12 per cent. in the former case and 7 per cent. in the latter of the total number of meetings called. This would seem to show that in many cases methods are unbusiness-like or that there is a lack of a sense of their responsibilities on the part of the members. The following are some instances taken from the figures of 1928-29. In Meerut out of 74 meetings of the board 43 were adjourned, 18 for want of a quorum, while the percentage of attendance of all members was only 49. Out of 47 meetings of the Lucknow board no less than 10 meetings were adjourned for want of a quorum. In Jhansi 29 meetings were adjourned out of a total of 52, 12 for lack of a quorum. In each of these boards the figures of the two preceding years are no less remarkable. On the other hand, the Cawnpore board got through its business in 34 meetings with only two adjournments and the Agra board in 29 with only one. In the same year, i.e., that in which the elections took place, the boards at Benares and Jaunpur met respectively only 16 and 3 times, having met the previous year 56 and 19 times.

The average attendance of members during these three years has not been satisfactory. In 1927-28 in only 34 boards did the average attendance exceed 70 per cent. In the following year this average was maintained in 41 boards. A record must have been established by the board at Shahabad where the average attendance of the members during this period was 15 per cent.

4. Income.—(1) Excluding extraordinary items and opening balances the total income of all municipalities fell by almost two lakhs of rupees in 1926-27 to 153·44, but in the course of the next two years rose to 161·01. Grants and contributions fell from 13·29 to 7·69 during the same period and octroi from 39·45 to 36·19. There was also a decrease in the income derived from the taxes on conservancy and on circumstances and property and terminal toll. But under all other heads income rose steadily, the main increases being obtained from the following taxes :—

On houses and lands from 9·05 to 10·21 lakhs;
on roads and ferries from 3·53 to 4·53;
on the supply of water from 13·91 to 15·21;
and terminal tax from 17·87 to 25·07.

The increase in the income from the tax on houses and lands is due chiefly to the introduction of this tax in Lucknow in 1928-29 and very appreciable increases in the incomes of Cawnpore, Allahabad and Benares under this head. In the last three years six more municipalities, i.e., Muzaffarnagar, Bijnor, Nagina, Ujhani, Amroha and Sambhal, have introduced the tax on roads and ferries, while the income from this tax has considerably increased in Naini Tal and Mussoorie. The tax on water has recently been introduced in Unao and Hardwar, but the increased income is due chiefly to the expansion of the water-supply systems in the large cities. The terminal tax was imposed for the first time in Lucknow in 1928-29 with an income of nearly six lakhs, while the income derived from it in Cawnpore, Agra and Saharanpur has largely increased.

(2) Eight municipalities abolished the tax on circumstances and property during the period under review. It is clear from the reports of Commissioners that this tax, like most direct taxes, is distinctly unpopular, lends itself to easy abuse in assessment and is in many cases very sparingly collected. The large increase in the income from the pilgrims' tax was due mainly to the fact that the rate in Hardwar was in 1927-28 raised by 50 per cent. The general policy which must regulate the imposition of this tax has more than once lately come under consideration of Government. It is clearly necessary to emphasise the principle that it cannot be allowed to be utilized for the general benefit of the municipality; its only justification lies in the additional provision which it is thus possible to make for the health and convenience of pilgrims.

5. Octroi.—In the period under review five more municipalities introduced octroi, namely, Nagina, Najibabad, Sambhal, Shahabad and Bara Banki, and the total income in 1927-28 amounted to Rs. 42·85 lakhs. The following year it fell to Rs. 36·19. This was mainly due to the fact that the Lucknow board abolished octroi except on cattle for slaughter and substituted a terminal tax. The largest increases in income from this source in individual municipalities occurred in Aligarh, Bareilly and Allahabad. In both Aligarh and Bareilly revised rates were responsible for this. In Allahabad the increase was particularly remarkable. After a steady decline in the years immediately preceding the period under review the income from octroi made a rapid and steady recovery, rising from Rs. 3·84 to 4·49 lakhs in three years mainly owing to more careful supervision of collections and scrutiny of claims for refunds. The board has now decided to substitute a terminal tax for octroi and the new schedules are in preparation.

But the figures even of increases such as have been quoted in the case of Allahabad, although they may not be the result of revised rates and may show some improvement in collection, yet fail to reveal the real state of affairs with regard to octroi in many of the thirty-eight municipalities where it is in force. This has been disclosed in audit, and the reports of the Local Audit department in this connexion during the last three years are far from encouraging. Admittedly the satisfactory collection of octroi is a matter of considerable difficulty, but at the same time octroi is the chief source of revenue, wherever it is in force, and as such should receive that careful attention, supervision and control which it demands. "The results of the year's audit (1926-27) disclosed that, with the exception of only one or two of the municipalities, a proper check and vigilant supervision over the working of the barriers was not exercised by the members and officers anywhere, thus allowing the low-paid collecting staff and the importers' ample chances and opportunities for under-assessments and evasion of duty." This comment was repeated in other words in both the succeeding reports of the auditors, and among the municipalities to which special reference is made in each report are found Allahabad and Bareilly. Seeing that most of the boards are hampered for want of money for improvements and many find difficulty in meeting their recurring expenses the neglect by the chairman and members of adequate supervision and control of their best source of revenue is very regrettable.

6. The incomes from sources other than taxation.—Revenue derived from municipal property apart from taxation, which had remained practically stationary at about 35 lakhs for the previous three years, rose to over 39 in 1928-29. This was due mainly to the extended sale of water in the five largest municipalities and the sale of lands in Lucknow city. Realizations under special Acts have steadily declined in the period under review from 2·56 to 2·33 lakhs and similarly grants and contributions from 13·29 to 7·69, the chief reduction being in the grants from Government for general purposes from 7·90 to 2·26 lakhs.

7. Collections.—There has been a very slight but steady improvement in collections under certain heads during the last three years, the percentage having risen from 79·93 to 82·24 of the demand. The number of boards which failed to collect 70 per cent. of their demand in no year exceeded 13 out of the 85. Hardoi distinguished itself each year by collecting less than 50 per cent., while Deoband in 1927-28 and Jaunpur and Azamgarh in the following year were in the same unenviable position. Among the larger municipalities the most marked improvement has been effected by Bareilly and Lucknow. In the former the percentage of collections has risen from 80 in 1926-27 to 97 in 1928-29, while the arrears have been reduced from more than Rs. 12,000 to less than one thousand In the latter the percentage has increased from 86 to 92 and arrears have been reduced from Rs. 57,000 to Rs. 45,000. Cawnpore, too, though its collections are still only 84 per cent. of its demand, has in the same period reduced its outstanding balance from 2·03 to 1·36 lakhs. But its remissions amount to over Rs. 70,000. In Allahabad improvement is not noticeable and arrears still amount to more than one lakh. Benares has gone from bad to worse. In 1926-27 its collections were only 79 per cent. of its demand and the outstanding balance was more than one lakh. Last year the percentage fell to 76 and arrears amounted to 1·99 lakhs in spite of remissions of more than Rs. 30,000 in the interval. Similarly, even after the grant of remissions amounting in the last three years to well over a lakh, Agra still has arrears of 1·75 lakhs and collected last year only 69 per cent. of its demand. In the past three years Fatehpur is the only board which has consistently collected its demand in full, while Sikandra Rao and Brindaban each achieved this distinction once.

One of the worst instances of inefficiency in the matter of collections is found in the case of the board at Hardoi during the years under review. The repeated admonitions of the Commissioner were disregarded, with the result that heavy arrears have been accumulating from year to year, items in many cases outstanding for the last six or seven years. With arrears of over Rs. 12,000 and Rs. 9,000 of taxes on lands and houses and on professions and trades last year not even the current demands were collected. The percentage of collections last year was 47, the highest figure reached for many years. Remissions amounted to 7 per cent. of the demand, and the year closed with arrears amounting to more than Rs. 27,000. It is to be hoped that the new board will take immediate steps to remedy this state of affairs.

The tax on houses and lands, the water-rate, and the sale of water and the rents of houses and lands are the heads under which the heaviest arrears are found in the larger municipalities. In Lucknow, Cawnpore and Allahabad something has been done to reduce the arrears under the first three heads, but in the last two cities in particular they are still too high. In Cawnpore arrears of water-rate were reduced from Rs. 84,000 to Rs. 53,000, and of the proceeds from the sale of water from Rs. 25,000 to Rs. 19,000, while in Allahabad the corresponding reductions (in thousands of rupees) were from 37 to 31 and 16 to 5. On the other hand, arrears of rents of houses and lands increased in Cawnpore from Rs. 40,000 to Rs. 42,000, and in Allahabad from Rs. 32,000 to Rs. 52,000. In Lucknow under this head, even after a considerable reduction in the two previous years, the arrears last year amounted to Rs. 23,000. But unsatisfactory as these figures are they cannot but compare favourably with those of Benares and Agra. In Benares arrears of the tax on houses and lands, the water-rate and the rents of houses and land increased in the period under review, respectively (in thousands of rupees) from 31 to 60, 59 to 108, and 6 to 13, and in Agra from 57 to 62, 83 to 96, and 21 to 26. These results are very far from creditable to the late boards.

It is obvious that the difficulties of collection increase with the size of a municipality, and there is less excuse for the poor results in the smaller towns. At Azamgarh, for instance, the collections of the tax on circumstances and property have been getting steadily worse. The arrears increased in five years from Rs. 8,857 to Rs. 14,715. The percentage of collections in 1927-28 was only 34 per cent. of the demand. It is a regrettable fact that the chairman and some of the members of the board were among the defaulters. At Baraut, although the demand of this tax has decreased, arrears have rapidly increased. For years in Mainpuri considerably less than even the current demand has been realized, and the arrears in 1928-29 after liberal remissions amounted to over Rs. 6,000. At the end of that year they amounted to over Rs. 10,000. The Commissioner remarks that the tax is unpopular, but its unpopularity is clearly no excuse for the board's inattention to its obvious duty in the matter of collection. Instances such as the above could easily be multiplied, and it is unfortunately true that but few of the boards can be absolved from the charge of neglect in the supervision and control of collections. Year after year their failings in this matter are pointed out to them in the reports of the Audit department and they are warned of the difficulties ahead of them, unless the matter receives their careful attentions. In several cases these warnings have been ignored and the newly-elected boards are faced with a serious financial crisis. The boards have ample powers under the Act to enforce payment of their dues, but from fear most probably of the unpopularity they would incur very few have dared properly to exercise those powers, the defaulters in the majority of cases being those who are well-to-do and who can well afford to pay. It is for the new boards who are faced with this situation to show a stronger sense of their financial responsibilities and duties.

8. Expenditure.—There was a small decrease in the total expenditure in 1927-28, but with this exception it has increased steadily from 154·02 lakhs in 1925-26 to 177·16 lakhs last year. The charges under the heads of office establishments and of collections have risen rapidly in the three years under review, the former from 7·94 to 8·40 lakhs and the latter from 7·79 to 8·47. Lighting charges in the same period have decreased from 20·2 to 13 lakhs. The installation of electricity in several towns and the consequent reduction in establishment and other expenses has been mainly responsible for this. The capital outlay on water-supply which in 1925-26 was only 6·77 lakhs has increased to 16·30, but the increase in establishment charges has been negligible Capital expenditure in drainage fell by more than two and-a-half lakhs, but establishment charges increased by almost an equal amount. The expenditure on hospitals and dispensaries has increased by nearly two lakhs. Charges under the head of public works have risen by more than two and-a-half lakhs and of public instruction by more than three and-a-half.

The few appreciable variations in the proportion of expenditure under the main heads to the total expenditure during the past three years are shown in the following comparative table of the years 1925-26 and 1928-29 :—

	Percentages.
	1925-26.	1928-29.
General Administration and collection ...	10·9	10·8
Capital outlay on water-supply ...	4·4	9·1
Capital outlay on drainage	4·7	2·6
Public works	14·7	14·4
Public instruction	9·8	10·6
Conservancy	16·01	14·3
Lighting	7·06	7·3
Hospitals and dispensaries	2·38	3·1

9. Audit.—There has been a slight increase from 44 to 49 during the period under review in the number of boards, the accounts of which are deemed to be "satisfactory or fairly well maintained," and it is gratifying to note that, while at first the number consisted entirely of the smaller municipalities, it included in 1928, for the first time, Allahabad and Cawnpore. Lucknow and Bareilly among seven others are reported to have made some progress recently, though there is still a great deal of room for improvement. Of the remainder, including Agra, Benares and Meerut, the accounts have continued to be characterized as "bad or unsatisfactory." Ignorance and disregard of the rules by the officials in general and laxity in the matter of supervision on the part of members and superior officers have continued to be the characteristic feature of this aspect of the working of these boards.

Reference has already been made to the lack of control over the octroi barriers and the collecting staffs. Among other more prevalent defects are the delay in the preparation and completion of assessment lists and disposal of objections, the irregular grants of remissions and refunds, failure to keep the demand and collection registers and the registers of nazul and municipal properties accurately and up to date, and delay in the disposal of audit notes and objection statements. Agra, Benares, Azamgarh, Meerut and Lucknow were among the worst offenders in their lack of attention to audit notes and delay in the disposal of objections. At Azamgarh the audit note received in July, 1927, was not returned for eight months, and even then numerous objections of several years past remained unsettled. So dilatory was the action of the Benares board and its officials in meeting audit requirements that it laid them open to the charge that many of the objections were purposely ignored with a view to their being eventually dropped on account of their age. The Lucknow board took seven and-a-half months to deal with the note of 1927-28, and even then a large number of objections relating to a period as far back as 1922-23 were not settled.

In regrettably few municipalities, in which any kind of assessed taxes are in force, were the connected accounts and registers maintained satisfactorily. This was particularly noticeable in the larger towns and cities where a considerable income was or should have been derived from house-tax and water-rate. In Cawnpore it is still doubtful whether all the houses in the municipality have been assessed and the demands on their account brought on to the assessment list. The Benares board, having decided to revise its assessment list to have effect from the beginning of 1927-28, proceeded later to postpone revision for a year. Meanwhile, a number of bills were issued according to the revised list, with the inevitable results of confusion in the accounts and a serious loss of income to the board. At Agra the default of the board in assessing newly-constructed buildings and in taking action against defaulters resulted in a heavy loss in income. Refunds and remissions are often granted too readily and in contravention of the rules. Obviously remission should be the last resort, and then only when the rules permit. Nazul and municipal property registers have been carelessly maintained in several municipalities with consequent loss of income on account of rents. It would appear that a number of boards consistently failed to treat audit notes with the attention they deserved, though in several cases the notes were a grave indictment of their administration, if not worse. Impartial as these notes are, and dealing entirely with records of the boards' own keeping, they are and should be regarded by the boards as a most valuable and helpful assistance in their work. The newly-elected boards are urged to give these notes in future their careful and prompt attention.

Embezzlements were detected in the following municipalities during the period under review :—Pilibhit, Ujhani, Meerut, Mainpuri, Sambhal, Moradabad, Allahabad, Lucknow, Ghaziabad, Sitapur, Amroha, Mussoorie, Baraut, Cawnpore, Bijnor and Jalesar

10. Municipal service.—In 1925-26 electric-light and power were being supplied in nine municipalities, in Dehra, Hardwar, Mussoorie and Naini Tal under municipal management and in Agra, Allahabad, Cawnpore, Lucknow and Saharanpur by private companies. During the three years under review the system has been introduced in Aligarh, Bareilly, Benares, Gorakhpur, Muttra and Jhansi, where licences have been granted to private companies. The electrification of Roorkee has recently been completed and is under the management of the board. It is expected that installations at Muzaffarnagar, Meerut, Ghaziabad, Hapur and Khurja, as part of the hydro-electric scheme of the Irrigation department, will be completed very soon. Licences for the supply of electricity have been given to private firms in Moradabad, Amroha Chandausi, Budaun, Najibabad, Bijnor, Nagina, Dhampur, Chandpur, Shahjahanpur and Hathras. The supplies at Naini Tal and Mussoorie have grown steadily. The success of the Hardwar supply has encouraged other local authorities to undertake similar work. It is to be hoped that boards managing their own supplies will not let their interest flag. In some of these municipalities complaints exist which would probably receive more prompt and adequate attention if the supplies were managed by reliable private companies.

11. Water-supply.—The number of towns with their own water-supply has increased from thirteen to fifteen, first Hardwar and later Unao having been added during the last three years. This is still a very small proportion. Admittedly the establishment of water-works involves a capital outlay which none of the boards can afford to incur without borrowing: but, properly managed, water-works can and should be a source of some revenue, quite apart from the inestimable advantage to urban populations of a good and constant supply of water.

In 1925-26 only five of the boards showed a profit on the year's operations, namely, Agra, Allahabad, Cawnpore, Naini Tal and Muttra. The following year Lucknow too began to show a profit. In 1927-28 Jhansi and Fyzabad, and last year Benares, Mirzapur, Hardwar and Unao were added to the number. Muttra has alternately shown a profit and deficit during this time, while Jhansi again lost on last year's working. Meerut, Mussoorie and Dehra have consistently shown a loss. The total deficit has, however, been reduced during the period from 1·78 to ·64 lakhs, while the total profit has risen from 2·01 to 6·32 lakhs. This is a welcome improvement and should act as an incentive to all boards to make their water-supply a source of profit rather than of loss. The part played in achieving this result by the Superintending Engineer, Public Health department, and the Mechanical Adviser to Government is gratefully acknowledged by the Government. But much yet remains to be done. At Agra on account of insufficient staff the census of connexions, which is the basis of proper assessment and of the adjustment of the tax, took three years to complete. The fact that the board has shown a profit despite insufficient provision for maintenance and repairs of its water-supply, and despite inadequate control over distribution and delay in the installation of meters, is evidence of the large loss of revenue that has been incurred. As it was, the arrears of revenue due on this account at the end of 1928-29 amounted to nearly a lakh of rupees or more than 23 per cent. of the total demand. The neglect of this board has been the cause of an increasing number of complaints. At Allahabad the main pumping station at Karelabagh, already sorely in need of reconstruction, suffered from a very serious breakdown in August, 1926, due to a settlement of the bank of the Jumna. At the Khusrubagh filtered water pumping station essential repairs were postponed, with the result that these repairs have now had to be included in the general scheme of reorganization which has recently been completed. So inadequate did the supply of water become in this municipality that public feeling was thoroughly aroused with salutary effect on the board. It is a pity that in certain other municipalities, such as Benares, the complaints of the public are not given more organized expression. By including a credit of 1·87 lakhs on account of water used for municipal purposes the Benares board has indeed converted a deficit into a profit on the year's working in 1928-29, but the arrears of revenue due for water alone at the end of 1928-29 amounted to more than a lakh of rupees or more than 20 per cent. of the total demand. At Cawnpore the board have made a real and not unsuccessful effort to make the water-works pay, but they have still to improve the census of connexions, the work of collection and the provision of meters. New works were opened at Hardwar at the end of 1926 and have been maintained satisfactorily. The Lucknow water-supply needs and is in process of reorganization and the manner in which the works have been maintained leaves much to be desired. Improvements in the filtering plant and the distribution scheme costing several lakhs have been taken in hand. The board at Meerut has hitherto taken no steps to make its revenue from water cover its expenditure, and in spite of the growth of the town the supply is stationary. Arrears of revenue for water-supply at the close of 1928-29 amounted to more than 15 per cent. of the total demand. An even greater indifference has characterized the attitude of the board at Mirzapur, where arrears amounted to more than 39 per cent. of the demand. Moreover, the ill-considered provision of standposts and private connexions with no proper census or control over waste threatens this town with a serious shortage.

A suggestion was made in the last report of the Mechanical Adviser to Government that the supply of water is proving "beyond the capacity of boards to manage, and that the time has come to consider whether the public interest would not be better served by the boards making over their water-supplies to private companies or to competent committees of management." It will be a matter of interest to see whether the growth of public opinion in the urban populations will result in bringing pressure on the boards to entrust the control of their water-supplies to public utility companies.

There is an insistent and growing demand for better drainage and conservancy arrangements. Great improvements have been effected, but further progress is essential. Any general improvement in the health of the urban population must primarily be a matter of education and hygiene propaganda: but at the same time the boards have ample powers to enforce certain sanitary rules and arrangements both on municipal and private property, due compliance with which would have a far-reaching effect without incurring any great extra expense. Not infrequently it needs the outbreak of an epidemic to draw proper attention to this, one of the most important of a board's responsibilities.

12. Roads.—The expenditure on roads which amounted to 17·69 lakhs in 1925-26 fell to a little over 15 lakhs in each of the next two years, but increased to 19·72 lakhs in 1928-29. The municipalities chiefly responsible for this increase were Dehra, Cawnpore and Lucknow. At Dehra the bituminizing of the roads was undertaken in 1927-28 when Rs. 50,000 were spent by the board as against only Rs. 11,000 in the previous year. In 1928-29 the expenditure amounted to more than a lakh. At Cawnpore where the annual expenditure for the two previous years had averaged about 1·5 lakhs, it rose in 1927-28 to 2·77

lakhs, and in the following year to 3·43 lakhs. A great and much-needed improvement has been effected in the roads. Expenditure at Lucknow had steadily and rapidly decreased during the first two years of the period under review from 3·38 to 1·04 lakhs. But in 1928-29 a general scheme of repairs and reconstruction was undertaken costing 4·07 lakhs. In Gorakhpur Rs. 65,000 were spent in 1928-29 as against an average expenditure of about Rs. 35,000 in the three preceding years. During the same time the expenditure at Agra decreased (in thousands) from 83 to 61 and at Moradabad from 69 to 39. Five boards in 1928-29 spent less than one thousand rupees on their roads, that of Baraut spending only Rs. 276.

The rapid increase in motor traffic, especially of the heavier types of vehicle such as buses and lorries, which shows no signs of abating, is making the up keep of their roads perhaps the most difficult problem facing all the boards. Most of them, it seems, are alive to their responsibilities in this matter, but a few continue to shut their eyes to them, with the result that their roads have been allowed so to deteriorate that without a capital outlay which must necessitate the raising of large loans, there is little or no prospect of even their partial recovery. It is obviously the duty of each board to draw up and follow a definite and systematic programme not only of reconstruction but of annual repairs, if it is to cope adequately with the problem. The greatest care should be taken that no encroachments for other purposes are made on the allotment for roads. Spasmodic expenditure not only increases the difficulties, but is financially unsound and wasteful. In Agra, of which mention has already been made, and in Muttra, where expenditure has fallen since 1925-26 from Rs. 21,000 to Rs. 6,000, the roads are in a very unsatisfactory condition and need prompt attention. In Allahabad they were in poor condition, and in Benares they have been freely characterized as a disgrace to the city.

13. Vital statistics.—The provincial death-rate per thousand of the population in municipalities was 41·58 in 1926. The following year it declined to 36·13, but rose again in 1928 to 39·95, when out of the 85 municipalities 28 recorded a death-rate higher than this average. The death-rate from cholera in urban areas rose from ·09 to ·65, the increase occurring chiefly in 1928 when the poor and sporadic rains produced a "season climatically favourable to the spread of the disease". The fall in the death-rate from small-pox during the same three years was remarkable. In 1925 it was ·94, in 1928 only ·24. That year, however, saw a sharp rise in the number of deaths from plague, the rate being 2·87 as against ·43 in the previous year. This also is attributed by the Director of Public Health mainly to climatic conditions.

There has been a consistent increase each year in the birth-rate in urban areas from 44·71 in 1925 to 49·27 in 1928, the provincial average for this year being 38·24. The excess of the birth-rate over the death-rate in these areas in 1928 was 9·32. The infantile death rate, however, which had fallen in 1927 from 278·29 to 233·77 increased again in the following year to 255·81. Cawnpore again recorded the highest rate of 383·91, a most alarming figure. But it is satisfactory to be able to record that steadily increasing interest has been taken in Maternity and Child Welfare work. The number of centres, with which is associated the improvement and training of indigenous dais, has increased since 1926 from 22 to 45, the majority having been established in municipalities, the boards of which contribute to their upkeep. Though the lack of money is cramping their activities, yet these centres, particularly in the larger cities, are doing very good work, as is shown in the annual reports of the Provincial Lady Chelmsford and Red Cross Maternity and Child Welfare League. The generous amounts contributed annually by Government and the Provincial Red Cross Society have been mainly instrumental in the establishment and maintenance of these centres hitherto, but the demand upon them for the extension of the works in other towns and in the rural areas are increasing so quickly that the centres will have to depend more and more upon local resources and municipal support for their upkeep. It is hoped that the boards will continue to give all the assistance they can to this most essential work and ensure that the centres are not starved.

14. Education.—The number of managed and aided secondary schools in 52 out of the 85 municipalities has during the period under review increased from 118 to 131, the number of scholars by more than 5,000 to 23,553, and the total expenditure by almost Rs. 8,000 to 3·27 lakhs. Secondary school education is very costly, and with so much still to be done in the extension of primary education it is doubtful whether in some of the smaller towns at any rate the expenditure on this object is really justifiable. The number of scholars in primary schools, managed and aided, has in the same time increased from 67,298 to 80,736 in the former and from 24,917 to 30,216 in the latter, while the total expenditure has risen from 8·65 to 11·08 lakhs. There has been a gradual, but by no means considerable extension of female education. The number of schools for girls managed and aided has increased from 346 to 380 and the number of scholars from 23 thousand to nearly 28 thousand, while expenditure has risen from 2·65 to 3·34 lakhs. In all but ten municipalities there are now girls' schools; but municipalities as important as Bara Banki, Partabgarh, Unao and Fatehpur have so far done nothing to encourage female education. Several boards, however, have undertaken educational schemes which they cannot afford. At Jhansi the board had to be prevented by Government for financial reasons from introducing compulsory education. At the other extreme is Dehra, where the board did not spend even the prescribed 5 per cent. of its income upon its schools.

15. In a review of this kind attention must inevitably be focussed mainly on the administration of the larger towns and cities, as their boards should, even if they do not do so, set the standard of local self-government for these provinces. In Allahabad a real effort has been made to improve the finances of the board. A substantial reduction has been effected in the cost of establishment under general administration, and revenue under a number of heads has been increased, with the result that the Commissioner could describe the financial condition of the board at the close of 1928-29 as "satisfactory". Nevertheless the municipal services still leave much to be desired, such as an adequate supply of good water, good roads, and other amenities to which the rate-payers very properly feel themselves entitled. At Agra the board has an unsatisfactory record. Mention has already been made of the inefficiency, if nothing worse, displayed in the matter of collections, the failure to make proper assessments, and the persistent disregard of audit notes. The result has been that the financial position of the board has suffered a serious relapse and that the new board has a very difficult situation to meet. The board at Meerut which should have set an example to the other municipalities in the division conspicuously failed to do so. "Not only were there the usual personal feuds and party intrigues, but also an added element of spurious politics." It is true that, for reasons beyond their control, income from octroi, their chief source of revenue, decreased but the board made little effort to regulate their expenditure according to their income. In Lucknow the three years closed with a very serious deficit. "To put it bluntly," writes the Commissioner, "the board preferred bankruptcy to the unpopularity of enforcing the trade premises tax" which had been sanctioned by Government to supplement the income from the terminal tax. Funds are badly needed for re-metalling the roads and improving the water-works and drainage, and much could be done by tightening financial control and preventing evasion of taxation. The board at Benares, to which several references have already been made, has probably the least creditable record of administration in the provinces. It took no action to remedy defects in its water-works noted by the Mechanical Adviser. Its drainage and sanitation and its roads after three years are as bad as ever; its school buildings are unsatisfactory; yet its expenditure has increased. At Cawnpore, on the other hand, very largely through the energy and ability of the chairman, the administration has shown continued improvement and difficulties are being met in a business-like manner.

Among the smaller municipalities there are many of which the financial position continues to be far from satisfactory, and in several it has become precarious. At Muttra the board has only managed to keep within its income by spending Rs. 21,000 out of a loan for water-works on other purposes. Kairana, a backward place with a small income, "shows no evidence of progress in any department. The comparatively high expenditure on education is mostly wasted". At Bulandshahr the deficit balance in 1928-29 was only concealed by the device of leaving bills unpaid. The Jhansi board came under severe criticism from Government in more than one department, and its finances were so extravagant that they had eventually to be taken under direct control. At Ghazipur and Ballia the financial position is so bad that the best that can be hoped is that there will be enough money to discharge essential functions. The finances of the Azamgarh board are in no better state. While the board is verging on bankruptcy and its income from all sources is diminishing, it refuses to introduce octroi, the only apparent hope of solving its difficulties. The accumulation of arrears of various classes of demands is a serious blot upon its administration. At Sitapur, Rae Bareli, and Khairabad the financial position of the boards is one of grave anxiety, chiefly on account of the inadequacy of collections and the prevailing unwillingness to increase sources of income. A welcome contrast to examples such as these is found in a few municipalities such as Partabgarh, Ghaziabad, and Naini Tal, where the boards are reported to be working with energy and enthusiasm to set their finances in order and improve the administration.

It is clear that the record of municipal administration, particularly in finance, during the past three years is one which admits of much improvement. Inexperience, it is true, may account for a number of mistakes, especially for the natural but too optimistic tendency of a new board to undertake ambitious schemes of improvement which cannot be completed within the means at its disposal. It may also account in some measure for ill-considered interference with its executive officers and establish-ment. But it cannot be blamed for the intrigue and party quarrels which have hampered the administration of several boards and would have frequently brought business to a standstill but for the tact and perseverance of the chairman ; nor can it be blamed for unwillingness to enforce the boards' dues in the matter of collections or to expand their sources of income by fresh taxation. To apply to Government for a grant still continues to be the accepted remedy whenever the undertakings of a board are found to be beyond its financial resources.

As has been indicated elsewhere in this review, however, there are not wanting instances of boards which realise that they must themselves increase their income if they are to provide proper amenities such as good roads lighting, adequate water supply, and sanitation. There can be no question that in many cases these services have during the last three years received greater attention. And this—and it is the most hopeful sign—is undoubtedly due to the gradual awakening of public opinion. In the larger cities at any rate the interest of the voters no longer begins and ends with the elections. The administration of the boards is becoming more and more the object of criticism and discussion. The boards themselves are beginning to feel the effect of this publicity and to realise that their work is subject to a more immediate and more searching enquiry than that which finds expression months after the event in official reports The Press is becoming, with increasing effect, the vehicle of comment, seldom flattering upon their administration, and it may be hoped that the time is not far distant when neglect of the public interest and financial inefficiency will meet with effective disapproval at the hands of the public.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to all Commissioners of divisions for information and communication to the chairmen of municipal boards, the Director of Public, Health, and the Examiner, Local Fund Accounts.

Ordered also that a copy be published in the United Provinces Gazette for general information.

* The Chairman, Municipal Board, Fatehpur, says that in view of the fact that the collection under [...] "conservancy receipts" and "sale proceeds of land and produce of land" have fallen short of demands by [...] and Rs. 58, there should have been an outstanding balance of Rs. 71; but it is not actually so, because not[hing of] this apparent balance is either due from any particular person or otherwise recoverable in future. Hence it [...] be held to be in arrears and shown in the column of outstanding balance. He adds that owing to the uncert[ainty of] the amount of income to be derived through the sources in question the demands were fixed by mere esti[mates] based on the then existing circumstances which varied afterwards with the result that the estimated am[ount] could not be realized in full as explained in the narrative of this report at proper places.
